All photographs and drawings by Robert Mellin, except for David Webber's drawings in the Appendix (digitally redrawn by Carla Myrick from Waterwerks Communications Inc: the print quality of The Heritage Look made it impossible to scan and reprint the original drawings). Graphic design by Robert Mellin and Waterwerks Communications Inc (St. John's).

Robert Mellin, Ph.D., R.C.A., is Chairperson of the Heritage Foundation of Newfoundland and Labrador and a registered member of the Newfoundland Association of Architects. He is an Associate Professor at McGill University's School of Architecture. He has won five Southcott Awards for his heritage conservation work in Newfoundland and Labrador, and his book Tilting: House Launching, Slide Hauling, Potato Trenching, and Other Tales from a Newfoundland Fishing Village (Princeton Architectural Press, 2003) won the Winterset Award.

The original drawings of the details in the Appendix were by David Webber for the book The Heritage Look: Renovating your Home (1976), published by the St. John's Heritage Foundation. Webber was an expert draftsman, artist, and exhibit designer/builder. Webber was manager of the St. John's Heritage Foundation when The Heritage Look was produced, and he later worked for the Arts Centre in Charlottetown. Other drawings in the book The Heritage Look (not reproduced here) were produced in 1976 by the firm Sheppard, Burt and Associates as part of the work for their St. John's Heritage Conservation Area Study (Beaton Sheppard and Carl Yetman did the façade drawings for this study). Philip Pratt made a significant contribution to the St. John's Heritage Conservation Area Study when he worked with Sheppard, Burt and Associates. Beaton Sheppard now practices architecture in his firm Sheppard Case Architects Inc., Carl Yetman practices architecture in his firm Contemporary Architecture and Design Inc., and Philip Pratt practices architecture in his firm the PHB Group Inc.
