

HERITAGE POSTER CONTEST DEADLINE APPROACHING!

(St. John's, NL) December 02, 2007 - The deadline for submissions to the annual Heritage Day Poster Contest is fast approaching, says Peter Whittle, Public Relations and Events Specialist with the Heritage Foundation of Newfoundland and Labrador.

“We are so pleased with the positive participation from schools in Newfoundland and Labrador over the past years. We have already received some excellent submissions this year and want to remind educators, and students, that entries will be accepted up to December 22, 2007,” says Whittle.

Winners will be chosen in four categories (Primary, Elementary, Junior and Senior High). The overall winner and his/her family will join the Heritage Foundation of Newfoundland and Labrador in St. John's as they celebrate Heritage Day 2008 held on February 18th.

Whittle says, “In every community across Newfoundland and Labrador there are buildings, structures and lands that hold historical significance. They represent our past and need to be protected for our future.”
